

Aqua Novo LLC: Medical Health Claims - Disclaimer

We are often asked what HydraSonic™ will do for specific health conditions. As most of you are aware, there are very strict regulations in this country regarding making medical claims, and severe penalties for marketing products based on those claims. Our stance is quiet simple on the subject: We do not claim to heal or cure any disease, neither by personal representation, nor through any company written materials. That being said let us explain further what we can say from our opinion and perspective.

It is well known and accepted that the environment around a biological system has immense impact on the health of that system, be it plant, animal, human or planet. The more one can improve the environment internally and externally, typically, the more benefit is observed.

It is well known and accepted that water is the dominant substance in the body, and in fact the life force behind most living organisms, and that water can exist in various forms of purity, content of minerals and other substances, harmful or beneficial. It is well known and accepted that clean water is better for plants, animals, humans and such, and that polluted water is not. This leads to the obvious conclusion that water can be altered to be more beneficial to a biological system or organism, and that doing so has the ability to give that biological system or organism a better probability for benefit.

It is our belief that the most if not all biological systems break down and literally die at a cellular level based on factors that lead back to intracellular dehydration. So, how does one get better intracellular hydration?

We believe there is significance to the purity, pH balance and structure of the water molecule absorption capacity. Furthermore, we believe that water carries within it other additional information as memory, and that it delivers this information via the covalent hydrogen bonds amongst other methods. We believe that water can deliver this information directly and indirectly through resonance and chemical interaction, and most likely other means. In our opinion, these factors and others determine the nutritional value of a particular water. In our opinion, the correct water is the first and most important step in overall nutrition, and that the health of any biological system is directly related its ability to absorb and utilize that water.

That fact that we believe all of this should tell you why we are doing our best to provide to you the highest quality bottled water on the market today. What you personally experience as a result of consuming HydraSonic™ is for you to decide, and we always appreciate your comments.
